Porcelain is one of the materials often used in European classical art. In order to better adapt the decorative space, we integrate porcelain material into the products.

The union between the texture of metal and porcelain makes York products more fascinating, and make you feel as noble and elegant as a work of art every time you use.

York provides products in three different colors: black, chrome and aged brass, matched with porcelain.

These provide more choices to the living space. You can match at your will, showing your unique taste of life.
